JEFF DUNAGAN FOUND GUILTY BY JURY IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Douglas Man Accused of Selling Liquor Is Convicted—Recommendation for Leniency in His Behalf.

TOMBSTONE, Aug. 24.—(Special)—The jury in the case of Jeff Dunagan, charged with selling liquor, brought in a verdict of guilty at 10 o'clock this morning, after being out since 9 o'clock yesterday afternoon. With the verdict came a recommendation to the court for leniency in dealing with the defendant, due to his physical condition. Judge Lockwood then allowed Mr. Dunagan to make a cash bail of $1,000, pending his sentence, and he was given his freedom. He left shortly afterwards for his home in Douglas.

An hour or so after the case went to the jury yesterday afternoon the jury reported and asked for further instructions on certain points and also asked that the testimony of certain witnesses be read to them in order to refresh their minds. They did not report again until the verdict of guilty was brought in this morning.

County Attorney Ross left last night for Nogales to represent the state in the habeas corpus proceedings brought in Judge O'Connor's court in behalf of O. S. French, of Bisbee. No criminal cases were tried in the superior court today, though the trial of alleged liquor sellers will be resumed tomorrow, with John Gregovich, of Bisbee, as the first defendant.

DOUGLAS OFFICERS RAID DREAM JOINT AND SEIZE LAYOUT

(By Review Leased Wire.)

DOUGLAS, Aug. 24.—Several hundred dollars worth of opium, pipes and other accessories, and a considerable quantity of stolen government property were captured in a raid last night in a resort on Seventh street, just off the restricted district. Three persons were also caught in the dragnet and are now in the city jail awaiting arraignment this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner H. C. Beumler.

The three persons arrested are Jim Mizer, Matilda Mizer and Olga Hilton, the first two colored and the third white. Officers say they were in the act of smoking opium when arrested. They are charged with having opium in their possession and also with having property stolen from the United States government, to-wit, one army pistol and four army blankets. The latter offense alone is punishable by a maximum fine of $1,000 and three years in jail.

The raid was made by H. V. Williamson an agent of the federal revenue department, and Lieut. K. E. Kern, provost marshal, assisted by local officers. They went to several places that were under suspicion, but in one or two instances the inmates had learned of their approach and fled. The three persons arrested were in one house. In addition to the smoking opium in cans there were a number of cards of opium and also a quantity of yen shee, as well as three expensive pipes for smoking opium.

The officers say the arrests last night were but the beginning of an active campaign against offenders. Lieut. Kern said this morning that he is going to use every means to stop the practice of certain persons in buying property stolen from the government. He had a number of additional search warrants sworn out this morning. Mr. Kern says that if persons who have stolen government property in their possession will bring it to the police station they will not be prosecuted, but will be severely dealt with in case it is necessary to secure the property by means of search and seizure.

OWEN FIGHTS FOR CORRUPT PRACTICES

and the general deficiency appropriation bill which has not yet been reported to the House. Republican Senate leaders notified the Democrats that they would not permit the revenue bill to reach a vote until the deficiency appropriation had been disposed of by both houses.

REVENUE BILL ARGUED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Senators Penrose and Sherman, Republicans, consumed most of the time in today's debate on the revenue bill. The Pennsylvania senator concluded a speech against the measure begun yesterday taking the proposed munitions and inheritance taxes. He also criticized the tariff commission to be created in the bill.

The tariff commission paragraph said the senator, "is not of any very great importance. It apparently is put in merely as a measure to attract and mislead Republicans. In fact there has been a propaganda throughout the country in favor of tariff commission. This provision in the pending bill supplies a popular catchword which is meaningless and ineffective. If the Republicans are restored to power, they will doubtless provide for a tariff commission which will produce practical and effective results in the direction of reasonable and adequate protective rates based upon a thorough examination of the difference of cost here and abroad."

Senator Sherman attacked the proposed income tax increase as unfair and inequitable and assailed the Democratic tariff.

ACCEPTANCE OF PLAN HANGS IN BALANCE

can count upon a freight rate increase. Presidents and managers agree that the operating problem presented is one of the most complicated they have ever undertaken. There seems to be a general opinion that the eight hour day must be granted, but roads which are now operating on only a narrow margin of profit or on which the physical differences are unusual, present serious problems to be overcome. The effort has been to include in the eight hour concessions solution of some other question such as overtime pay, etc., which might make it less expensive to the railroads. There were reports tonight that some of the executives still are unalterably opposed to granting the eight hour day under any circumstances, and might attempt to force a decision which would bring the negotiations to an end one way or another.

An estimate of the ultimate cost was given the President.

President Wilson is said to have taken the position that the freight rate increase will be forthcoming because the weight of public opinion will back the eight hour day, and will also back any plan to give the railroads the revenue to provide for the added expense.

Statements were issued tonight by President Pennington of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie, and President P. R. Albright, general manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, emphasizing the railroad view of the additional cost to them of an eight hour day. Mr. Pennington said for the railroads to accept something which would cause them to spend $50,000,000 more annually, would seriously affect their credit. He pointed out that in 1907 the railroads earned 5.85 percent on their investment, in 1912 4.53, in 1914 3.94 percent, and in 1915 4.04 percent. Despite a large increase in earnings the past year, he added, incomplete returns show a probable rate for 1916 of about 5.50 percent.

Mr. Albright said if the eight hour day is adopted and the present standard run for a day of 100 miles is retained it will mean an increase for engineers on his road from a minimum of $5.25 per day to $7.18 per day.

Hope was high among brotherhood men tonight that a satisfactory settlement would be reached tomorrow. Assurances from their leaders, after the visit paid them by Judge Chambers early in the day with a message from the White House, that the outlook was favorable, comforted them. The men maintained that they received no details of the judge's communication but they were satisfied with their leaders' optimism. The leaders declined to comment, but all of them were broad smiles and said that the negotiations would soon end.

"We have our ears to the ground," was the way A. B. Garrett summed up the situation. That, save for his statement earlier in the day that the message conveyed by Judge Chambers "certainly was not depressing" was the only comment he had to make throughout the day. Other leaders were equally silent. A stage

In the negotiations has been reached, where none of the men could say anything. It is known, however, that if the railroad heads insist upon the formation of a federal commission for the investigation of labor differences before strike is called, as reports have it they will, vigorous opposition will be started by the brotherhoods.

Fear of embarrassing the President as well as injuring their own cause today quieted the "insurgent" brotherhood element who yesterday for a time threatened to disrupt the calm daily meetings of the employees with their demands for action. As a result the gathering today was peaceful and adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock without a sign of protest.

The leaders had pointed out to the insurgents that thus far in the negotiations the weight of the President's services had been with the men and that they should not do anything to embarrass him.

There were no capital conferences regarding the threatened strike today the members of both houses awaiting the result of the negotiations by the President which they hoped would prove successful. At the capital it was thought that while no plans were agreed upon yesterday in event of the failure of the negotiations to avert a strike, no one would be surprised at steps that would be pro-
